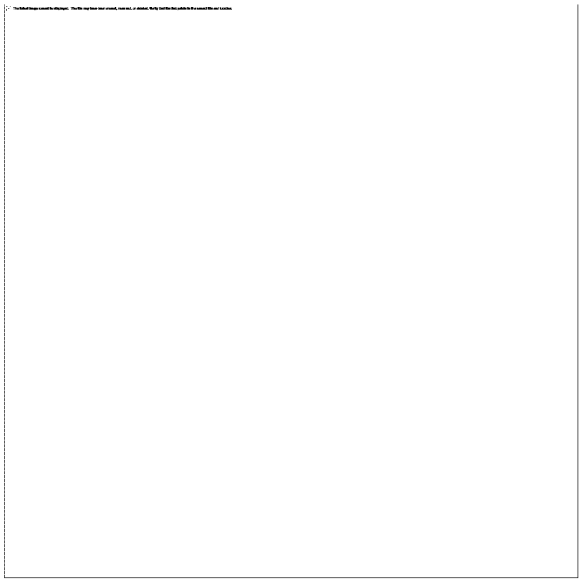
Subject: Happy Earth Month! Get out and enjoy at events near you

MARCH FOR SCIENCE
April 22 in New York City

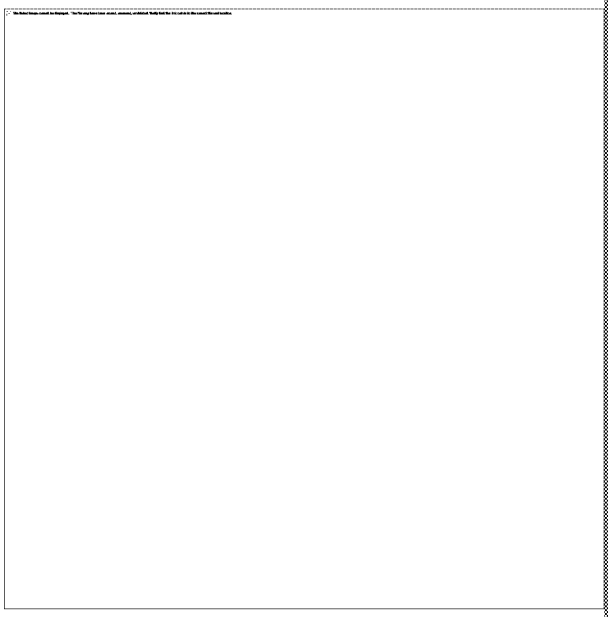
On Earth Day, show your love for science! Join us at the March for Science New York City to stand up for the science-based policies that protect Long Island Sound and the water that sustains us all.

Interested but need to know more? Register for free and we'll let you know the details as they develop!



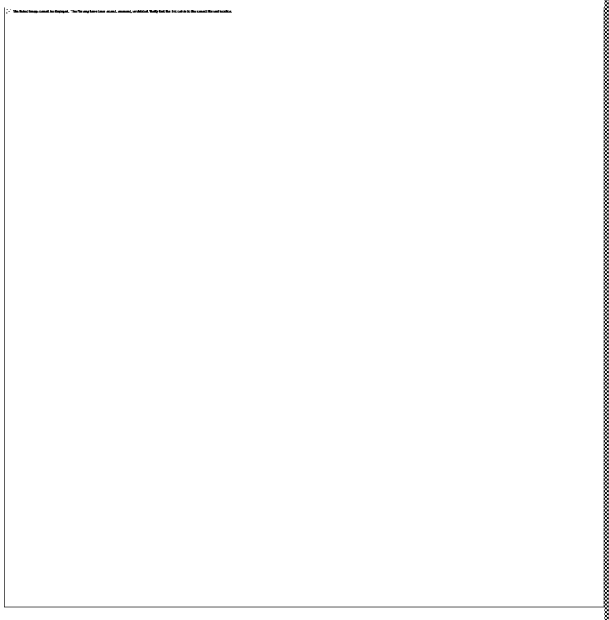
EARTH ACTION DAY
April 22 in Port Washington

Bring your family to the Port Washington Public Library between 12:00 - 4:00 p.m. for a special Earth Day fair. We'll have activities for your kids to explore water quality! Let us know you're coming.



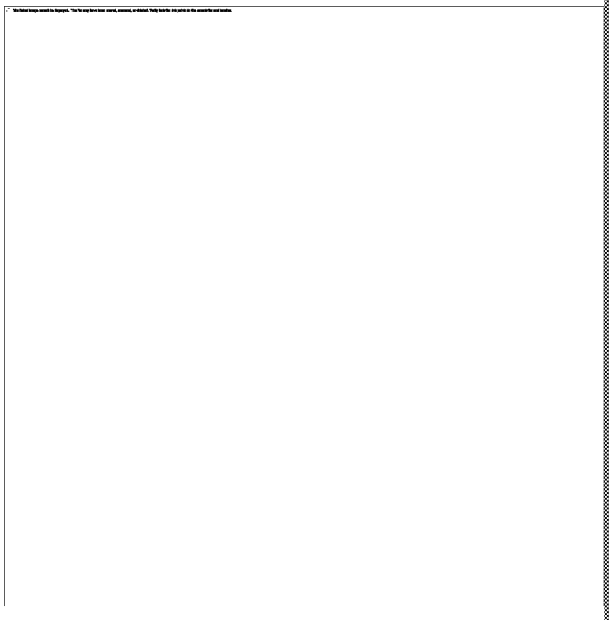
DANDELION FESTIVAL
April 23 in Southold

Come get the latest news on the fight to save Plum Island from our expert Louise, and learn how you can help! Visit our table at the annual Dandelion Festival at KK's the Farm in Southold between 11:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Learn more here.



WATER QUALITY ACTIVITIES FOR KIDS AT SOUND OFF!
April 23 in Cold Spring Harbor

Stop by the Save the Sound booth at Sound Off!, a hands-on event designed to teach families about the importance of Long Island Sound. We'll have fun activities for kids to learn about water quality at The Whaling Museum & Education Center of Cold Spring Harbor in New York from 12:00 - 4:00 p.m. Let us know you're coming.



Visit our blog for information on all upcoming events.
